Let's make a kinder world!

On July 11th, was the Euro 2020 Football (Soccer) Finals, England vs. Italy. Italy won the game in a 3-2 penalty shootout. Italians were so happy to win the game and the whole country celebrated for the rest of the night, lighting fireworks and playing music. My family in Italy was so happy because this is the second time Italy has won since 1968.

However, England did not win the game because 3 players missed penalty kicks. These players were black and now many people on Social media (SNS) have posted racist comments about the players. Even the prime minister of England was angry at the racist comments. He said, "This England team deserves to be cheered for as heroes, not racially abused on social media."

Now, because of Social media (SNS) everyone can see racist behaviors from each country. I hope that as global citizens, we can all fight against racism together. Sports are a great, happy event to come together. It's hard when our favorite team loses, but we shouldn't act out in hatred. There is no excuse to torment sports players because of their skin color. It's amazing that everyone is so different. Let's celebrate our differences. If we were all the same, the world would be so boring.
